My dear Mr. Shugar--

I am sorry not to see you and your mother be-- fore sailing and shall hope for better luck next time. I do hope you will have good weather and a fine trip. It always seems such a shame to lose it-- Fair when one is leaving a foot trek.

I cannot tell you off hand where to look for friends in England, but I shall ask the librarian in New York who proba-tively can help me. I hope you have references to these records, but do not remember about these
There is a St. Peter's Parish Register which I think has some references to William Pullum. I could give you just what I know but the file took containing it seems to have vanished and I shall have to go to the library again to see what it is. Father told me once that his great-grandfather, Corle, had a brother Edmund. I have found the names confused in several instances. I don't think he had them confused, but in asking him questions I would sometimes be thinking of one side of the family and he of the other. At any rate, I wrote it down that the Corle ancestor had a brother Edmund. I only knew that it was Pullum—Since you find William Pullum in New Kent, and I find Mr. Pullum in New Kent, it looks as if Pullum and Pullum might be the same. The Quaker record, if in fact, might set us straight. There would hardly be two men with those names in the same county.
Deil I write you that. there is a coat or arms for Seol or Seale and one for Shuypt which may be the Welsh for Sellard I know very little about having the spelling of names. I think that Shuypt might be worth investigating if you can find the proper place. You could find the Herald's College or Wherever it is called in the London Directory and they might be able to give you some information about The English spelling
