Dear Sir,

Since I last wrote to you I have seen Mr. Suckley to whom Mr. J. or Smith assigned your note. He is perfectly satisfied with Mr. Miller's arrangement you proposed and has authorized me to carry it into effect. He has further instructed me to transmit the joint note of J. A. W. & yourself to Mr. W. Herman which I shall forthwith do - and shall request him to meet his exactions to make the money from Mr. Smith.

I saw Mrs. Malden at Fairfax Court house - but as I had no distinct recollection of the difference between the two notes - I declined receiving any payment from him - I now annex a statement - in your statement you have deducted 1. mo. 11 d. interest instead of 11 d. 11/2 mo. interest from 11. Dec. 9 and 1. mo. as you supposed - I have therefore deducted the interest on the difference between the principal sum of the joint note as this is not covered by the joint note. The amount you can remit me by the first opportunity and your note shall be returned to you - in the mean time it may be convenient as covering only the balance of the annexed statement.

I remain very respectfully,

R. J. Taylor
